

Campus Map

Departmental Webpage

Careers:

- Our course prepares you for a range of careers in the public and private sector
- Work experience is an integral element of the curriculum; possible professional contexts for internships are public relations, journalism, trade and business, cultural heritage and intercultural communication, libraries and archives.
- You could think about connecting with professionals in public relations, journalism, trade and business, cultural heritage and intercultural communication, libraries and archives

B.A. ENGLISH LITERATURE AND CULTURE

What do we do?

- Engage with literatures written in English, from the British Isles and the wider Anglophone world
- Investigate texts and their contexts closely and critically
- Employ a range of methodological perspectives
- Introduce canonical works and present challenges to that canon of literature
- Consider wider cultural phenomena from newspapers and journalism through to cinema and art

What do you gain?

- A broad understanding of the literature and culture of the British Isles and beyond from the Renaissance to the present day
- The ability to engage with a range of primary material across a variety of media
- The confidence to make and defend an argument and to discuss complex ideas

Prominent Areas of Research and Teaching

- Literature and Culture of the Early Modern Period
- Literature and Culture of the Eighteenth Century
- Literature and Culture of the Nineteenth Century
- Modernism, Aestheticism and Decadence
- Contemporary Literatures, Cultures and Media
- Ireland, Scotland and Wales
- Gender Studies
- New English Literatures and Cultures (Postcolonial Studies)
- Literary Linguistics
- Stylistics and Literary Form
- Literature and Science
- History of Philosophy

Student Advisor

Dr. Patrick Gill

+49 6131 39-20438

patrick.gill@uni-mainz.de

Where you can find us:

Department of English and Linguistics
Philosophicum (1st Floor)
Jakob-Welder Weg 18
55128 Mainz
Germany